Today's weather: Most parts of the country experienced sunny intervals in the morning, except over the Kigezi ranges, Albertine region, West Nile, Pader, and Kalangala Islands, where light showers were recorded. In the afternoon, sunny intervals continued across much of the country, with isolated thundershowers developing over West Nile, parts of the Lake Victoria basin, Rwenzori and Elgon ranges, Kigezi highlands, southwest, Karamoja sub-region, and central northern areas.

Further outlook: Over the next three days, Uganda will experience warm and humid conditions with rising rainfall, particularly in the western and central areas and the Lake Victoria basin, where afternoon and evening thunderstorms are expected. Dry, hazy conditions will persist in the east and northeast, while isolated showers in the north may become more widespread by Saturday, with a risk of localized flooding and strong winds
